BY CRANSTON & NORMAN 127 THAMES STREET,

TUTSDAY MORNING SEP. 9, 1851.

[[]In all human probability the Cuban war, or rather the invasion of Cuba by a band of unprincipled men, is over, for some time to come. The origin of this melancholy affair has been a fixed desire on the part of the South, generally, to acquire Cuba, and then an open demonstration would have been made for the establishment of a Southern Republic, -or, in other words, a bold stand would have been taken for a dissolution of the Union.

There has never been the slightest evidence that any considerable portion of the inhabitants of Cuba were so far dissatisfied with their Government as to be willing to revolt, and take up arms against the authorities. On the contrary, all information which we have ever had from there, which was at all reliable. fully justific the belief that the people of that Island are eatisfied with their government, as a general thing, and that they were ready to assist in putting down any invasion from the States. No doubt there are some realless spirits there, as there are in every country, who are ready for plunder, and who would be very vociferous and brave when there was no danger. But we do not believe that there has ever been one hundred men in Cuba, who were ready to rebel against the government.

It is said by some writers that there is a general dissatisfaction autong the people, but that they dare not rise, and that they cannot effect anything because they are so closely watched. If their government is so very oppressive, and they have no redress through civil means,-then they do not deserve freedom, because, if they are not willing to make the cflort for it, they are not capa, ble of appreciating its blessings, or preserving its purity. If they commence r revolution themselves, and may of the citizens of the United States are disposed to go to their assistance, that is all very well,-but even in such a case, all such persons could expect no protection from the United States, so long as our government was at peace with Spain -because their very act would make them outlaws, and disfranchise them from any claim upon the protection of the United States.

When the first expedition was fitted out by Lopez against Cuba, about a year ago, a large number of young men were undoubtedly deceived in regard to the character of the expedition, and were thus innocently precipitated into trouble. The Spanish authorities took this into consideration, and after capturing the invaders of Cardenas, they made them prisoners; none were killed, and no personal violence was inflicted. Our autherities interposed, and in due course of time, all Americans were liberated. The President issued a Proclamation warning all persons against embarking in any expeditions against Cuba, and in forming them, if they did, that they would be regarded as outlaws, and would receive no protection from the Government. Due notice was also givon by the Captain General of Cuba that if any persons again attempted to invade that Island, they would be regarded as pirates, and would be executed as such. These official notices were pubhehed in all the papers of the United States, at I full warning was therefore brought Lone to all the people of this country; and after this, whoever embarked in the last expedition, went with an entire sense of their condition, and what their fate would be, if they were unsuccessful. Therefore, we say that no one can complain of the result. We think that there are but few who will justify the Cuban authorities in their basiy execution of these delinded men ; they might safely have allowed them more time to prepare for a change of worlds. Yet none can fairly denounce them in unmeasured terms, because we all know what the hat-blood of the Spaniards is, and that they are by nature a revengeful people; they did not know to what extent the feeling against them in the United States had spread neither did they know what numbers would invade their shores. The South era papers have represented that our citizens were going by thousands to the assistance of Lopez, -and the Spanish authorities had every reason to believe that this was true; and they consequently probably left that their only safety depended upon executing the invallers as fast as they could eatch them -which they have done. Therefore, although as we stated before, their has ty conduct enough be fully justified, yes there is very much to pairiate the same breathing anything but blessings upon his name and memory. All the secessionicts of the South, all who are hostile to this glorious. Union, have aided and abetied in this matter, -and they will yet have to answer for their partieipation in this fourful and tragic offair.

Lopez was a bad man, and he has gone to the judgment bur of God, her only with his own guilt to answer for. but with the blood of Lundreds of his victims upon his hands,-while widows and crphaus and distressed friends are | Expedition, was a native of Venezuela.

The locofaco papers, of course, are burning with righteous indignation agrinet President Fillmore and his Cab jest; this is to be expected. because it is a political movement, and they hope to make capital out of it. But they Inve mistaken their game. The President has nothing to do in the unatter, as regards there who were concerned in the invasion; neither had the American Consulat Havana anything to do with these men, for the very reason that they had forfested all claim upon their goverement for protection. It the American government attempted to interfere in behalf of these invaders, by that very act they would recognize the invasion as a national deed, and would, therefore, virtually declare war against Spain.-All which our Covernment had to do wit, the matter, was to make good the faith of its Treaty with Spain, by using its best endeavors to prevent its citizens from going to Culin; and this it has done. And had our national ships captured would have been surrendered to our for levying war upon a nation with whom we are at peace.

President Fillmore fully camprehends the nature of his duty, and he will faithfully discharge that duty; he is not to beswerved from it by crafty politicians, and he is not to be intimidated by unprincipled demagognes. Let the fate of Lopez and his associates be a fearful warning to Southern disunionists and Northern fauatics. If they profit by it, and become attached to the Union, the blood of these unfortunate men will not have been shed in vain.

The Germania Musical Society, having completed their contract with the Hotels, in this town, for the season, leave here to day for New Bedford, where they are to give a Grand Concert tomerrow evening. From thence they proceed to Boston, where they are engaged as the Orchestra for a series of Concerts to be given by Parodi and Strakosch. They will remain there until the 22d of this month, when they go to New York, where they are permanently engaged as the Orchestra for the Concerts of the celebrated Miss Catharine Hayes, the distinguished swan of Erin, who is soon to arrive, and who, we think, is destined to create us much sensation as Jenny Lind has.

It is useless to talk of the gopularity of the Germanians; their brilliant reputation has extended all over the country, and they are fully and justly appreciated by all lovers of music. The members of this society are all gentlemen, who have occupied an honorable position in their father-land, and who have fled to this country for the purpose of escaping the persecutions pursued by the government at home. They have all been highly educated, and many of them, particularly Carl Bergmann, the leader, enjoy distinguished musical reputations in the old world. Whoever comes in contact with them, will apprecrate all that we have ever said of them and cannot but be most highly impressed in their favor. Their Concerts here this summer have been numerous, and invariably crowded; and without them there would be a very unpleasant vacuity in the fashionable seasonat Newport.

The principal hotels in town have heen fortunate enough to make a new contract with them, and have thus secured their services for next summer .--We congratulate our friends in New Bedford upon their good fortune in being favored by a Concert from the Germanians at this time; they are fully appreciated by the good prople of that city, and we have no doubt but that the Concert room will be crowded tomorrow evening.

Wherever the Germanians may go, we invoke God's blessing upon them : may they be favored with the most abundant success, and crowned with health and happiness.

The Warren Association of Baptist Churches will hold its anniversary this week, on Wednesday and Thursday, with the Second Baptist Church of this town. This ancient Association is the mother of all the New England Associations, and the meetings of this venerable body are always interesting, embodying, as they do, a large number of eminently able men. The annual Sermon, this year, is to be preached by Rev. J. N. Grangur, of Providence, on We lnesday morning. There will be preaching at the Second Baptist Church this evening, at 7 o'clock, and a prayer meeting at the Lecture Room of the same Church, on Wednesday and Thursday mornings, at 6 o'clock.

Lapez, the head of the late Cuba

63-We have been requested, by several gentlemen who reside on Broad street, to call attention to the subject of cattle being stationed on that street.-We learn that many of the farmers from the Island are in the habit of leaving their oxen and other cattle, for hours together, on that street, to the great annoyance of persons who live there, and also of others having occasion to pass on the street. The cattle lie down on the walks, to the inconvenience of pas sers by, and often frighten women and cluldren who are in the vicinity. There is a State law against this, and any percon aggrieved by the nuisance has a right to drive such cattle to the Pound. and the owners will have to pay the legal fees before they can obtain them again. These gentlemen have no disposition to resort to these stringent means for their protection; yet, if the nuisance is continued, they will be compelled to,-and they will also apply to the Town Council for other rulief. We trust that those who have heretofore been in the habit of leaving their catthe in Broad street, will take our hint. and remedy the difficulty themselves, without compelling any one to enforce the law against them. The public streets are not proper places to leave any of the vessels of Lopez, instead of cattle in; we are constantly hearing of protecting such of its citizens, they frightful accidents in other places, by personabeing terribly gored by oxenown authorities, and tried and punished cows, &c.; and we trust that speedy steps will be taken to prevent anything of the kind here.

> WHICH HAS THE MOST CHURCHES?-Which Has the Mast Chinomes — Brooklyn our opposite neighbor, has long here called "The city of churches;" but we see that Syracuse contests the title with Brooklyn, or any other city in the country, having twenty-five churches to a population of 25,000—one church the country beared in the country of the church to every thousand inhabitants.— On which the Newburyport (Mass) Herald remarks that that City with a little over 12,000 inhabituats contains 15 churches.—N. Y. Express.

That is all very well as far as it goes; but the palm must be yielded to this town. We have 9563 inhabitants, and eighteen churches, being a church for every five hundred and thirty-one inhabitants. Can any city or town beat HPAt this senson of the year, when we are passing from summer to autumn, there is something in the atmosphere which seems to affect the system,-and persons should be pareful not to eat fruit or vegetables that are not perfectly ripe and fresh. Without this precaution, many will undoubtedly suffer from the usual complaints of the season.
